

CENTRAL FLORIDA GOLF GUIDE YOUR GUIDE TO GOLF IN POLK COUNTY

PLAYING THROUGH

With more than 40 public-access courses offering 612 holes to choose from, Central Florida's Polk County boasts one of the top collections of golf courses in the United States and showcases the work of top course designers like Donald Ross, Bill Coore, Ben Crenshaw, and Tom Doak. These masters have left an indelible mark on the region, crafting spectacular resort layouts, undulating links-style courses and tree-lined parkland tracks.

Golfers here will marvel at Central Florida's natural beauty throughout their round. Polk County's topography makes the area unique, boasting some of the highest points on peninsular Florida and offering natural elevation changes and contours unlike any others in the Sunshine State. Meanwhile, courses are defined by natural wetlands, marshes and many of the area's lakes, while centuries-old oaks, native palms and pine forests frame the fairways. Wildlife is also plentiful, and golfers may find that deer, bald eagles, foxes, osprey and sandhill cranes provide the perfect visual distractions during their round.

With great year-round weather, unparalleled natural beauty and a diverse collection of courses that will accommodate golfers of all abilities and budgets, Central Florida's Polk County provides the perfect destination for a great golf getaway.

Utilizing natural contours, dunes and grasses to offer a golf experience reminiscent of the links-style courses of the British Isles, Streamsong is a golf experience atypical of any Florida golf course. The Red Course, designed by Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw, the Blue Course designed by Tom Doak, and the Black Course designed by Gil Hanse, have been widely heralded as 54 of the most spectacular golf holes in the United States.

Recently added, The Chain is Streamsong's highly awaited 4th course and offers something different entirely. The Bucket is a 2.5-acre putting course representing the course's 19th hole. But before reaching it, golfers are treated to 18 holes of short-course perfection designed with fun and walkability in mind. Dragline chains mark each tee area and guests are invited to choose from where they'd like to begin each hole. The winner of each hole chooses the placement on the next, making for a lighthearted experience that still demands precision of all who play.
